CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Potomac Lodge of Odd Fellows tonight will confer the initiatory degree on a class of candidates at its hall.

Mrs. Mabel Hamilton, twenty years old, wife of J. H. Hamilton, died last night at her residence, 805 South Washington street.

The work of issuing permits to colored children to attend the public schools was completed this afternoon by Gilbert J Cox, clerk of the city school board.

Two automobiles, one going north and the other south, collided shortly after 9 o'clock last night on Mount Vernon ave nue near Mount Ida. Both wheels of the southbound car were joyable evening.

A lawn fete will be given tonight at St. Rita's Hall, Mount Ida, Alexandria county. It is expected that a large number of persons from this city will attend.

Mr. S. Diener and family, Culpeper, Va., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Whitestone, 204 North Royal street.

Midshipmen Ferguson B. Bryan, Stewart W. King, Thomas L. Wattles and Roland Gaines are visiting their parents in this city.

Simon Whitestone, oldest brother of Messrs. Robert P. and Louis L. Whitestone, of this city, died this morning at his home in Little Rock, Ark. He is survived by a wife and one daughter. The deceased was about fifty-five years old. He was engaged in the real estate business in Little Rock.

The congregation of Beth El will hold its Sabbath Shuwat service at 7:30 o'clock tonight. A special service for the children will be held Sabbath morning at 10 o'clock. Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock a memorial service will be conducted at the Jewish cemetery.

The city auditor, Mr. E. F. Price, calls attention to an error in the official proceedings of the city council as published in the Gazette yesterday. Mr Price says the bill of Albert Sorenson for $1,300 should have been $130 and the bill of Remington Typewriter Company for $100 should have been $1.

ARREST OF A COUNTESS

Peace Talk Scented as Cause of Berlin Raid.

The arrest of Countess Fischler von Treuberg in her drawing room at the Bristol hotel in Berlin has aroused much comment, according to a dispatch from Berne yesterday. The German papers have referred to it several times in the last few days, but characterize it as a "mysterious affair."

Rumor says the countess is charged with spreading pacifist propaganda, and intimates many high officials and distinguished citizens may be concerned in the matter. According to the Deutsche Zeitung, some retired diplomats, Prince von Buelow namely, were constantly seen in her drawing room where they met different journalists and politicians like Theodore Wolff and the independent socialist Deputy Bernstine. No special motive is given for the arrest of the countess.

RICHMOND THEATRE

The downfall of a young man of excellent family, and his subsequent reclamation as the result of the contemptuous glance of a young woman, form the basis of "The Source," the newest Paramount photoplay starring Wallace Reid, which will be seen at the Richmond Theatre tonight.

To see Wallace Reid in a character of this description, a besotted bum, is a novelty. Mr. Reid is known as one of the classiest actors in motion pictures, a real democratic American of high ideals and aspirations. He won his fame as a motion picture star largley when playing in support of Geraldine Farrar in such plays as "Joan the Woman," "The Devil Stone" and "The Woman God Forgot." To leap from the impersonation of the leads in plays such as these, to that of the bum in "The Source," shows a wide range of versatility, but which in Mr. Reid is simply another attestation of his genius.

A 2 reel Keystone comedy will also be shown.

Colored Men in Draft; Called to Camp September 25.

The local draft board has been notified to arrange to send a number of colored men in class one to camp about September 25. Within the next few days a list of those in that class will be sent to Col. Jo Lane Stern after which time a call for the number needed from this city and county will be issued by the local board. On this call 2,000 from Virginia have been summoned, it being designated as call No. 1,328.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Admiral von Scheer, chief of the German admiralty staff, is quoted by Dr. Wildgrube, conservative member of the reichstag, according to a Dresden dispatch printed in the Cologne Gazette as having said in the course of a speech: "You may say to the country with a good conscience that I do not doubt for a moment we shall bring England to her knees by submarine warfare. Only I will not bind myself to a definte date."

Three German airplanes are believed to have been shot down Wednesday by Lieut. Jaques Swaab, of New York City. On his return from a flight over the lines he engaged and shot down a fokker machine. Continuing his return flight he was attacked by a group of German planes, but shot one down in flames and forced another down out of control.

The bill desired by Secretary McAdoo to exempt fom taxation a portion of the income from liberty loan bonds was reported to the House yesterday by Chairman Kitchin with the unanimous endorsement of the Ways and Means Committee. It will be taken up today and passed by the House.

In their recent advance on the western battle front the British fired more than 10,000,000 shells in four weeks. As a result the enemy's wire was cut with greater thoroughness than ever before, and the British counter battery work, according to the German statement, destroyed 10 guns to the German's one.

A sentence of 15 years at hard labor at Fort Jay, N. Y., and dishonorable discharge from the army has been imposed by a court-martial upon Joseph H. Quinn, of Boston, a private in the depot brigade at Camp Devens, for refusal to obey an order of his superior officer. The sentence has been approved by the judge advocate general at Washington. Quinn claimed to be a conscientious objector, but was unable to produce proof that he was a member of any recognized sect opposing war.

A nation-wide effort to round up men who failed to register for the draft yesterday will be started immediately by a specially organized corps of Department of Justice agents. Methods have been developed for gathering information from hundreds of sources on men within the new draft ages who failed to respond, and this will be used to prevent evasion. Many volunteer members of the American Protective League, a citizens' organization against draft dodgers, are understood to have enlisted in the new campaign against draft dodgers, and the system is said to be so thorough that it virtually will be impossible for slackers to evade arrest.

Governor Hart Bennett, of British Honduras, died September 5 at Belize from injuries received in a recent disastorus fire. This information was contained in a letter to J. W. Glover, of Mobile. The governor was struck by a falling flagstaff and injured about the head. The letter further stated that the fire was caused by German spies and that it was discovered that when firemen tried to use the hose it was so badly cut water could not be gotten on the fire through it.

3,873 REGISTRANTS

City's Figures Are 2,225; Alexandria County, 1,648—Figures For Two Places 1,000 Less Than Government Estimate. Local Board Busy Classifying Registrants.

A grand total of 3,873 men in this city and Alexandria county, both of which are in the same unit, registered yesterday. Of this number 2,225 were in tihs city and 1,648 in Alexandria county. The foregoing figures are about 1,000 less than the government estimates. The total number who actually registered here yesterday was about 900. This was due to the fact as previously stated in the Gazette. that there was an unusually heavy advance registration earlier in the week which continued up to yesterday.

The registrars as a result yesterday had comparatively little to do. The figures for the city embraced those who registered at the shipyard and also those who registered at Camp Humphreys.

Several persons who were unable to register yesterday for various reasons registered today with the local board. The board also is receiving cards of a number of Alexandrians by mail who registered in other cities.

Members of the board today are busily engaged in the work of sorting out the registration cards and indexing them in order to be able to send out the questionaires.

This work will be rushed as rapidly as possible. in compliance with the request of Provost Marshal, Crowder and in order to have the men ready for the next call.

Long before 9 o'clock last night the work of registration had been completed, and comparatively few persons registered after 7 o'clock. The registrars closed promptly at 9 o'clock and made their returns to the local draft board. Alexandria county's returns were brought in this morning by George R. Rucker, chairman of the local board.

ITALIAN PRISONERS

Again the Treatment of Italian Prisoners in Germany.

Further evidence of the mistreatment of Italian prisoners in Germany, was lately disclosed by an exchanged French prisoner, who had occasion to witness many indignites visited upon Italians in a concentration camp in Saxony. At the time he was there, there were some three thousand Italians literally herded in the camp, which was in a state almost hopeless. The daily food ration consisted of 250 grams of bread rolled in with talcum, and such oats as were condemned by the cavalry as unfit for horses, or rotten cauliflower and beets.

The prisoners were employed in the coal and iron mines at a 200 meter depth, and were forced to work by blows with rifle butts. Whoever refuses to work is subjected to severe punishment, and forced to live in paste board barracks, with a reducton in the bread allowance. They are put through hard military drills which last for hours at a time, with a sack filled with twenty pounds of sand, strapped to their back. Those who fall exhausted are in all cases beaten mercilessly. The German doctors at the camp never declare a man sick. The prisoners get letter paper but all mail is destroyed, after a perusal by the camp authorties, who naturally punish severely anyone compiaining of the conditions.

Mrs. Claude A. Swanson, wife of the Virginia Senator, who a few weeks ago was taken surdenly ill at her country home near Danville, and who was brought to a hospital for treatment will be taken within a few days to Rochester, Minn., where she will undergo an operation.

CABARET PERFORMANCE

Entertainers of National Refute Are Headliners For Show Tonight at War Camp Community Club—Proceeds For Playgrounds.

An elaborate program in which some of the talent that will participate has a nation wide reputation will take part in the cabaret entertainment which will be given at 8 o'clock tonight in the auditorium of the War Camp Community Club. This talent comes from Camp Humphreys. All are now doing their bit for Uncle Sam to help make the world safe for democracy.

Such persons as Gus Edwards, Al Pollock, Genia d'Agarioff, Will Dillon, Clippy Lyons, "Happy Jack" Lambert and a host of others almost equally as well known are on the list of entertainers. Music will be furnished by the Fifth Regiment Orchtstra under the direction of William Uffert.

The general admission will be fifty cents and table tickets will be seventy-five cents, proceeds of the entertainment will be for the Alexandria Playground fund.

In connection with the "play week" festivities last night about 10 young girls participated in the hike and afterward enjoyed a "hot dog" and "marshmallow roast" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kirk. Community songs were given by the marchers under the leadership of Miss Williams. The parties upon arrivng at the residence of Mr. and Mrs Kirk built a campfire. The hikers returned home about 11:30 o'clock. All expressed themselves as having spent a most enjoyable evening.

It is expected that 500 soldiers from Camp Humphreys will be entertained at the homes of citizens over Saturday night which will mark the end of play week which has been a success.

Homer H. Van Wie, secretary of the white War Camp Community Service, last night addressed a mass meeting of colored citizens at Odd Fellows' Hall, South Columbus street, which is the headquarters for the colored soldiers. The colored women decided to hold a mass meeting Sunday when plans for the entertainment of the colored soldiers will be mapped out.

FORMER SENATOR DEAD

Stricken Suddenly Here Yesterday Morning, Aged 80.

Joseph Clay Styles Blackburn, former Senator from Kentucky, and for the past five years special resident commissioner of the Lincoln Memorial Commission, died suddenly yesterday morning at his home, 1702 Nineteenth street northwest, Washington, of heart failure following an illness of more than five years.

He was stricken at 6:30 o'clock and died before air could be summoned.

Mr. Blackburn was born in Woodford county, Kentucky, October 1, 1838. He attended Sayres Institute at Frankfort, Ky., and Centre College at Danville, Ky.

He was admitted to the bar in 1858, practicing in Chicago until 1861 when he entered the Confederate Army. He served on the Isthmian Canal Commission in 1907.

PEACE BY VICTORY

U. S. Socialist Mission Finds the Pacifist Spirit Gone.

London, Sept. 13.—Striking testimony regarding the attitude of British labor toward the war is contained in a statement obtained from the American Socialist mission now returning to the United States after a two months tour of the allied countries. This statement is signed by A. M. Simons, chairman of the mission; Charles Edward Russell, Lewis Kopelin and Alexander Howe. It reads:

"On our visit to the Deroy congress we found an entirely different spirit among the pacifist element than when we passed through London in the first weeks of July. At that time they all assured us there was no hope of victory; that the trenches would be in the same place 5, and even 25 years from now, an dthat soonor or later the war must end with a compromise peace by negotiations

"Now, all agree that they were mistaken; that American aid has been far greater than they thought it possible. and that allied victory now was only a question of time.

"Among the rank and file we found a feeling of distrust of such leaders who saw events only long after they had been visible to every one else. When we came, an international socialist congress was generally demanded and expected to take place early this autumn. Now, it is generally admitted that such a conference would not be possible in the near future."

VIRGINIA NEWS

An automobile containing 30 cases of liquor was captured Wednesday in Fredericksburg. The men arrested gave their names as J. S. Gitelmo and De Witt T. Felvey, of Richmond. Two other men abandoned a car and got away. Another big car was captured by the Fredericksburg officers yesterday. The car went through Fredericksburg at high speed and was chased by the officers for 40 miles. When near Beaver Dam, being closely pressed, the driver jumped from the car and made his escape in the woods. The officers brought the car, which contained a large quantity of liquor, to Fredericksburg.

Fipal arangements have been completed for the entertainment of the annual State convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, which meets in Richmond October 4-8 at the Jefferson Hotel. Delegates are expected from all chapters in the State and many officers of the national organization have signified their intention of being present.

Major Robert E. Lea, of Danville, in Camp Perry, Ohio, attending the National Rifle Association matches, was shot and probably fatally wounded yesterday morning by a stray bullet while standing in front of his tent. Major Lea was shot in the chest, the bullet passing through his body. Surgeons say he has a chance to live. An investigation has been ordered. The wounded man received his commission as major Wednesday, having been detailed at Camp Perry for the course from Camp Lee. Major Lea is a son of George A. Lea, of Danville.

Solos were given by Mrs. H. Friedlander, Miss Bruce, and Mrs. William Woolls; violin selections were given by Rabbi Youngerman, Alvin Friedlander, and there was a piano selection by Miss Armstrong.

HUN DENOUNCES STAND

Quenching Peace Inclination of English Workers, Says German Laborite.

Copenhagen, Sept. 13.—Carl Rudolph Legien, president of the German federation of trades, unions, speaking at a meeting of the federation's executive committee, recently accused President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, with falsity to labor's cause and of "desiring to quench the spark of inclination toward peace which has flamed up in the English laboring classes."

President Legien declared that Mr Gompers's speeches weer calculated to support the pan-Germans, "whose activities and aims are decisively rejected by Germany's labor unions."

The war can be prolonged for years if the entente nations' laboring classes follow Persident Gompers' percepts, said President Legien.

In conclusion he asserted: "Let us repeat that only peace by agreement, without annexations or indemnities can be enduring and can make it possible for us to work with and alongside each other."

The federation committee indorsed Legien's remarks and ordered their publication.

SEE U-BOAT FAILURE

Neutral German Press Breaks Bad News Gently to People.

London, Sept. 13.—Some indication of the views of German naval authorities on the U-boat campaign is furnished by the Swiss paper Berner Tageblatt, which says:

"Certain naval officers of high authority have evidently expressed or at least been suspected of entertaining the opinion that the submarine war, if not a downright failure, has 'gone wide of its mark.'"

It is the custom of German authorities to break disagreeable news to the German people by publishing it first through neutral sources. It is significant that the statement of the Berner Tageblatt is reprinted without comment by the official Wolff's Bureau further for consumption by the German public. Wolff's Bureau further volunteers the statement that the declaration by "certain naval officers of high authority" that the submarine is a failure among the German naval authorities.

GRAND THEATRE

"Bluebird Day" at the Grand Theatre tomorrow will be marked by presentation of "The Show Down," a romance of the sea. Myrtle Gonzalez and George Hernandez, who have always been leaders in Lynn F. Reynold's productions, will be stars of the occasion. The scenes were photographed in Palm Canyon, Cal., and on Santa Cruz Island, a rugged pile of rocks off Santa Barbara, where the players went "back to the primitive" to reflect the struggles for existence a boatload of ship-wrecked tourists endured before they were rescued. Through all the sensations and excitemert an engaging love story comes to happy fruition.

CUT GAPS IN HUN LINES

Americans Advance Five Miles On South And Three Miles On East Side of Sector.

With the American Army on Lorraine Front, Sept. 12.—(Night)—The battle which opened with the big American drive between the Meuse and Moselle rivers this morning still continues.

The French, who went into the attack on our left flank and center, are still advancing.

Late in the afternoon a thunderstorm blew up and somewhat interferred with operations.

With the Americans on the Metz Front, Sept. 12 (night.)—It is unofficially reported the French have occupied St. Mihiel (at the top of the salient.)

The important town of Thiencourt was taken by the Americans. They also seized Pannes, Bouillonville, and Nonsard.

All the American first objectives have been reached on scheduled time.

With the American Army on the Lorraine Front, Sept. 12.—(Midnight).—French troops fighting with the Americans in the offensive southeast of Verdun have captured Mont Sec.

(The high ground in the Mont Sec region is the key to the German front on that sector.)

The total German prisoners taken is now put at about 10,000.

Two American corps captured 8,000 prisoners.

The enemy has withdrawn from all teh northern part of his line from St. Mihiel to Weinville.

American troops tore great holes in the German line around the St. Mihiel salient in the offensive begun by France-American on a 20-mile front in Lorraine early yesterday.

The Americans drove in on both sides of the salient capturing the important town of Thiaucourt, northwest of Pont of Mousson, where they are fully three and one-half miles inside the German positions. They took likewise the towns of Pannes and Nonsard on this front, and pushed on until their total penetration is reported to have reached the distance of five miles.

On the westerly side of the salient the Americans captured Combres and pushed as far as Donmartin, where their advance seems to have been a distance of approximately three miles. Thus marked headway already has been made in pinching out the salient by the converging attacks. Meanwhile the French at the tip of the bulge have struck towards St. Mihiel and have reached the western outskirts of that place.

Paris, Sept. 13.—The first big American offensive, which began at daybreak yesterday betwen the Meuse and Moselle rivers, was conducted under General Pershing's personal supervision and was executed under orders of Aemrican officers with American soldiers. This was the first distinctly American operation of a major character launched on the western front.

London, Sept. 13.—American troops on the Lorraine front have captured the towns of Thiaucourt, Pannes and Nonsard.

North of St. Mihiel General Pershing's forces have captured Combres They are reported to have reached the westeren outskirts of Donmartin la Mantagne.

French troops co-operating with the Americans in their drive on the St. Mihiel salient have reached the western outskirts of St. Mihiel.

London, Sept. 13.—The British have made further important progress toward Cambrai, having captured the towns of Havrincourt, Trescault and Moeuvres, penetrated into the old British defense line at several places and crossed the Canal du Nord north of Havrincourt, according to Field Marshal Haig's communication, issued last night. Approximately 1,000 Germans were made prisoners in the operations.

Don't fail to see Kerensky and the Russian Revolution, also Billy West, Friday at the Grand Theater. Admission 5 and 10 cents.

PAN-GERMAN MORALE

As a fire-eating Pan-German paper, Das Groessere Deutschland, goes to great length to explain the impairment of German morale, it is to be supposed that as a matter of fact that morale has been impaired, and it is also inferred that this is recognized at home as a serious matter because Das Groessere Deutschland says that while the food and raw material difficulties can be surmounted, the present question is whether the morale of the army and people will hold out.

It is to be inferred, furthermore, that the German people have been told how serious a matter American intervention is, because the Pan-German periodical denounces the German press for painting in dark colors the consequences of American intervention. It also admits that the food situation has affected the morale of the people. A fourth cause of impaired morale is highly significant of the relations of the people to the Government:

"The German morale is suffering because the German Government fails to meet the enemy arguments, and especially fails to meet the argument that the German people are being sacrificed by their rulers and the Junker militarist caste."

The Government tells the people, "We are fighting for our existence, and must hold out to the end," but Das Groessere Deutschland says:

"Is it any wonder that the simple man says to himself: Will the English and the French really slaughter the whole German people if they get into our country? Whose existence is really at stake? Will they kill me and my family and destroy my farm and my house? Or is it perhaps only the existence of the rich and ruling classes that is at stake. Are we not perhaps giving our lives only for capitalism, which especially is now enjoying such wild orgies? Is it not only a war of the ruling classes?"

If the German Michel in communing with himself after this fashion—and it is the more favorite organ of the most bellicose elements in Germany that says it—we should say that the situation was decidedly interesting, and with more hardships at home and more defeats on the western front it might become extremely serious to the ruling classes. The principal ruling class consists of William Hohenzollern, and the article in Das Groessere Deutschland gives a little weight to the remark of a captured German soldier that if the war should end in a German defeat—and the German soldiers believe it will—the Kaiser will be killed after the war.

THE HOODOO DAY

Today is Friday the thirteenth. To the superstitious it is a hoodoo day. It is indeed a hoodoo day for the kaiser, but a lucky day for America and the cause of democracy says the Washington Herald..

To begin with, today is Gen. John J. Pershing's fifty-eighth birthday anniversary. He is celebrating it by leading an American army toward Metz. From last reports he is leading it well, for our soldiers have battered their way through the German lines for miles and have taken 6,000 prisoners.

Today Gen. Pershing is in direct command of the first distinct American army battling the enemy. Next year he will be the head of the greatest army this country has ever seen. He will be directing a force of 4,000,000 men on their way to Berlin.

TAXOMANIA IN VIRGINIA

The Loudoun Times says Virginia seems in the last few years to have gone tax mad. So extensively has this malady developed and so acute have become some of the cases affected that people are commencing to regard the state as plague-stricken. Until a strict quarantine has been established and the disease gotten under control and eradicated, nobody will come into the state except those who have to, and it will take extradition papers to get some of these. Some people are so nearsighted that they can only see themselves when they kiss themselves in a looking glass.

THE AMERICAN OFFENSIVE

The American offensive that was begun on the Meuse and the Moselle yesterday has evidently been in preparation for some time. The implication that our armies would soon be employed in a serious task was conveyed in the statement made a week or so ago that the American forces, or a large part of them, were being organized into a separate body under General Pershing in the Alsace-Lorraine sector. Whether the offensive now begun is to straighten out the salient southeast of Verdun, whether it is intended to draw German reinforcements from other points to its defense, or whether it is preliminary to a blow much farther east are questions which only General Foch and those close to him caan answer. The thing most interesting to us at present is that an independent American offensive has commenced and that the Germans will now feel the weight of a great force, which has heretofore been mainly held in reserve. The world anxiously awaits the result.

Premier George declared yesterday that the "worst is over. The news is definitely good—really good. The tunnel is long and has some steep gradients still to be climbed but is getting shorter."

PEACE

Since the tide of war seems to have turned and our armies are now driving the foe, we are being warned by those whose judgment we trust against the expectation of an early peace. It is victory, complete and overmastering, and not peace that we must set before us, and that may be and probably is quite far in the future. The power of the enemy is not broken nor his legions destroyed. We have yet a heavy price to pay in continued anxiety and sacrifice before the peace that we will accept shall be ours, and a premature expectation of it will only weaken our hands and undermine our determination. We must be confident, but patient and resolute in meeting all the heavy demands which are yet to be made upon us.

But while we strive for that peace which will only come through force of arms we may be made stronger and more hopeful by a glad recognition of that which has already come as a result of this religious war. Paradoxical as it may seem, we believe there is more peace in the world today than ever before.

Were ever so many nations united in stronger bonds of peace than at the present moment? Think of the long array of peoples, great and small, whom we are proud to call our allies, who are being cemented together in mutual trust and amity, their old jealousies and suspicions of each other put to shame, and they looking forward to a league of nations based on justice and humanity to supplant an artificial and precarious balance of power. When the hideous blot on the map of the world representing Prussian domination has been wiped out, war, let us hope, will also have passed out of the purposes and counsels of the nations. But that reign of peace will be but the fruition of this which the war has already established among the allied nations and which is the secret of their strength and the sure augury of their victory.—Southern Churchman.

Letter From France

In a letter written from "Somewhere in France" by Corporal Paul L. Moriarity to his mother, Mrs. M. E. Moriarty, this city, the writer gives an interesting account of his trip across and says they never encountered any submarine. Among other things he tells his mother he does not want her to worry about him for he says "You know we are in the game until the finish, and if the Huns keep on the run like they have been it will not be long before we return home."

Babe Ratliff, a Patrick county farmer, has been arrested by United States deputy marshals and lodged in Martinsville jail, charged with having harbored his son, an alleged deserter from the army. The young man was also caught and returned to Camp Lee.

SALE OF RUGS!

Damaged by Water During Recent Fire in Building Adjoining Our C Street Warehouse

—The Rugs show only slight signs of having passed through a drenching, and, in fact, they were only wet on the edges or splashed with water in places. We had them thoroughly dried out and many of them you would never imagine had been injured at all.

—This is certainly an opportunity not to be missed. All sales are final, none sold on deposit and none exchanged.

GERMANY IN ROUMANIA.

Roumania Learns What German Oppression Means; Country Stripped of Food and Supplies; Many Executions.

Take Jonesou, the Roumanian statesman is coming to America to tell us what the Germans have been doing in his country. Washington has already heard part of the story. And while, so far Russia has been the standing example of what happens to a land which in Germany's own words, "bows to her will," it appears that Roumania can teach us even more.

She was smaller, she had not so much as a Lenine and Trotzy to defend her, and as a result in Roumania Germany has been able really to work her will.

She has executed at will hundreds of the principals in the war. Bratiano, the war premier, is at present awaiting trail. And wth him are most of Roumania's pacifist-socialist leaders, and majority of whom opposed the war.

"The occupation of the country diminished the population by about $800,000 writes Dr. Fritz Karl Mann, in a recent official report to Berlin. And in another place we learn that this decrease in population means just plain deaths since Germany entered the country, most of them from disease and starvation. Also, even in one of the richest food countries in the world, the starvation is easily explained.

In the Treaty of Bucharest, Germany did not, on the surface, demand any money indemnity of Roumania. As the German secretary of state expressed it "securities in natural products between corespond to German interest." Which meant, first of all, oil and wheat. And Germany is now taking Roumanian oil at the rate of some 11,000 cars a month. But of the wheat she has taken far more.

You Can Shoot At The Kaiser From "Over Here"!

You don't need to be on the battle front to shoot at the Kaiser—the Du Pont plants at Penniman and Hopewell are making munitions for the fighters over there, and the men who help to make this ammunition are emphatically striking a blow at "the murder demon."

The work at these plants is just as vital to the winning of the war as men, and if you join forces at either of these plants you are showing your patriotism in a manner that is important and worth while.

Men Wanted Quick!

There must be an uninterrupted stream of shells and munitions going over to the boys who are fighting our battles, and it is up to the men and women who cannot go to the front to see that this is done.

BUT, you cannot "dilly-dally" and say to yourself: "I guess I'll do my part later." You must act at once—NOW!! IMMEDIATELY!!

Your Winter's Coal Supply

On account of rulings of the U. S. Fuel Administration, it seems doubtful if Virginia will receive sufficient anthracite coal to supply the demands. If present rulings are maintained, this shortage will be very great in Alexandria and we earnestly advise our customers to put in a reasonable amount of bituminous coal as a safeguard against a coal shortage next winter.

We are now securing some very fine bituminous coal which we believe will work in all characters of coal burners but the latrobe stoves.

Germany Fattening on Roumanian Food.

Since March she has virtually been taking all the food that she could move and she has seized the whole Roumanian transportation system, by rail and on the Danube, with which to move it. She has taken the root and fruit crops, compelling the owners to dry them, where possible to make their preservation and handling easier. She has seized the fisheries, and put them under forced labor. As for the wheat, from the harvest of 1917, 1918 and 1919 Germany demanded a minimum of 2,000,000 tons, or about 66,000,000 bushels. Though the harvest of 1917 was almost a failure, the Germans claim to have been able to take enough of it to feed all Germany for 37 days. In 1918, of Roumania's wheat lands less than fifteen acres in the hundred have been productive. But none the less Germany is now arranging to remove Roumanian wheat and other food stuffs at the rate of 20,000 cars a day. And Roumania is facing a famine that may be absolute.

Finally, in the "no indemnities" clause of the Treaty of Bucharest it now appears that there was a joker. Germany was to pay for the food she took. But she is paying for it at prices averaging one-fifth of those offered in the open market; and it is estimated that by the end of 1919 this will be equal to some $2,000,000,000 alone. Also Roumania is now to pay all expenses Germany was put to "in restoring order." When, recently, this was made clear to the German Reichstag, it was made clear with a laugh of cynicism. "If the Roumanians are conscientiously to fulfil these obligations," commented von Kuhlmann, "they will have to make serious exertions."

Germany is soon to make another peace drive. Those who intend listening to her should do so with the Treaty of Brest Litovsk framed on one wall and the treaty of Bucharest framed on the other.
